THE WASHINGTON FOREIGN LAW SOCIETY

Our Mission: The Washington Foreign Law Society, founded in 1952, promotes knowledge and understanding of international legal matters, comparative legal issues, and foreign law. It is a non-profit, tax-exempt, educational organization located in the District of Columbia.

Our Advantage: As a center for international activity -- diplomatic, financial, commercial and academic -- Washington DC is served by a legal community that daily interacts with the laws and legal actors of foreign countries as well as those of the United States. The Society is in a unique position to disseminate information about foreign laws and to promote scholarship on international and comparative law.

Our Niche: The Washington Foreign Law Society serves as a forum for the intersection of legal and non-legal professionals serving in public and private capacities to the many US Government agencies, foreign missions, non-governmental organizations, academic institutions, and national and global professional firms with a Washington presence.

Our History: Since its founding in 1952, the Society has been served by a large number of prominent lawyers, jurists, and other legal professionals on its Board of Governors and has attracted an even larger number of distinguished lawyers, jurists, and other legal professionals and public policy makers as sustaining members.

Further Information: Information on programs and membership is available at: www.wfls.org, calling (202) 350-9560, or via e-mail at mail@wfls.org.
